

Aidan Fitzgerald

Vice President, Finance

Aidan Fitzgerald is the Vice President of Finance for Ball Aerospace. In this role, he leads all aspects of the company's Finance Strategic Capabilities Unit (SCU), including contracts administration and management, financial planning and analysis, financial accounting and reporting, government accounting, corporate ethics and compliance, project controls, government systems compliance and policy, performance initiatives and company-level business metrics.

Prior to joining Ball Aerospace, Fitzgerald held various finance and strategy leadership roles at Raytheon and McKinsey & Company, and most recently served as the Vice President of Finance at Science Applications International Corporation (SAIC), where he led financial operations for SAIC's National Security and Space Sector.

Fitzgerald received a B.S. in accounting from the University of Notre Dame, and an M.B.A. from Duke's Fuqua School of Business.
